Leurene F. Hodgkins June 19, 1910 – June 16, 2006

Leurene Hodgkins was one of the most pleasant people you might ever meet in Lamoine. She served the town as its treasurer from 1973 through 1979. Her first husband, Dr. Allen Hodgkins, was a long time Selectman in Lamoine. They briefly lived in Alaska, and helped start a fluoride treatment program for children there. She and Allen were married for nearly 60-years until his death in 1995. She was re-married to Harlan Hodgkins who also has long roots in Lamoine. Leurene served as the treasurer for the Forest Hill Cemetery for 38-years. She enjoyed hunting and fishing and riding the back roads of Maine.

Calvin R. Smith July 17, 1924 – October 18, 2006

Cal Smith was a true son and servant of Lamoine. He lived his entire life here with the exception of his service in the South Pacific with the US Navy in World War II. He was one of the original founders of the Lamoine Fire Department in 1948. Cal served as the town's fire chief from 1953 until 1959 and again in 1962. He was the road commissioner for Lamoine from 1955 until 1959. He was also the town's forest fire warden from 1960 until 1968. Cal was a master mason and worked in that trade with his son George (Skip) for more than 30-years. Skip has been fire chief for nearly 30-years, Cal's other son John is also a long-time firefighter in the department. His daughter Helen also still lives in Lamoine, as do his grand children and great grand-children. Cal was very active with the Frenchman Bay Riders Snowmobile club and for many years he and his domestic partner Mima Grindle erected huge light displays at their home on Asa's Lane.

The Boston Post Cane was awarded to Lamoine's oldest resident, Jennie Neleski, born November 10, 1908
